We will dip-net in the pond for newts, back-swimmers, whirligig beetles and croaking tree frogs. As the sun sets, we will sip hot cocoa and listen quietly on the banks for the evening chorus of birds and frogs to signal the end of another day. On the way back to the meadow we will seek out, many different species of nocturnal creatures as they journey through the darkness of the night, including coyotes, bobcats and great horned owls.
